Experience is the key

The Qualex iQ-Staffing<sup>TM</sup> Service is designed to help existing customers Staff all of their resource needs, whether those needs be forecasting, modeling, OLAP or base programming needs. It includes the following three modules:

- * Qualification Module - Our consultants will work with your organization to identify and qualify your needs. We will consider software, hardware and operating environment issues and versions that can affect your staffing requirements. We will review any issues that are specific to your operating environments, including operating environment changes or upgrades
- * Staffing Engine - Our extensive database contains only experienced consultants with appropriate skills and without language barriers. After a rigorous selection process, we give candidates our iQ-Certification. We analyze the candidate's skill-set and technical competence to match them successfully to the task at hand. The outcome of the staffing engines is to choose up to three qualified candidates
- * Logistics Module - We will work hand-in-hand with your staff and end users to place the selected candidate at your site (remote location is also an option)
